

4. Immrama - Journeys to Strange Islands

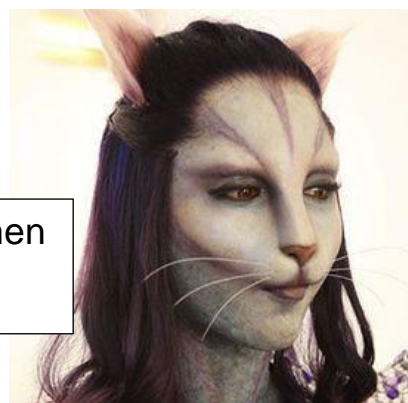

Irish stories tell of how sailors set off to explore unknown seas around Ireland in simple boats. They did not know what they might find.

They discovered many islands. Some of these islands were very strange indeed.

Máeldúin and his sailors found an island of giant people-eating ants

Snedgus & Mac Riagla found an island full of women with the heads of cats.

The Ùi Corra brothers found an island with stange pillars.

Máeldúin found an island where a cat was guarding treasure.

Bran found an island with a tree full of colourful singing birds.